FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

A MAN PASSETH

The Niagara Peninsula and particularly North Grimsby Township suffered an irreparable loss last week in the passing to his last reward of Charles W. Durham, ex-Reeve of the Township and ex-Warden of Lincoln County.

To a lot of people Charlie Durham was just Charlie Durham. But to the men who were in daily contact with him, who have come down through the years with him in private and municipal life, he was more than just Charlie Durham. He was a big man. Big in a lot of ways that the general public, and particularly his own ratepayers, never knew.

In his youth he was a great bicycle rider and a great hockey player on the Peach Kings of seven men, 30 minute hockey. A battling, but a clean sportsman. In after life he followed all sports endeavours in the Fruit Belt and my last conversation with him was the day after the 1947 edition of the Peach Kings had won the Intermediate "B" Championship. Despite the fact that he was in very ill health he was just as happy over that win as you or I.

Charlie Durham was a man who believed that there was no Town or Township as good as Grimsby and North Grimsby and no County as fine as Lincoln and he spent the best years of his life in carrying out every idea and plan that would make his home Town and Township and County just as good as he believed that it was.

Grimsby, North Grimsby and Lincoln County have lost a valuable and efficient servant. A man who gave his all for his fellow man. What more can any man do?

ON PARADE

I stood last Thursday morning, at several different spots on Main street and watched the parade go by. It was a good parade. It was a smart parade.

There is no doubt that it was and will be the last parade of Grimsby High School Cadets that P. V. Smith will command. He can retire with the thought in his mind that he done a job.

I watched the parade. I am an Old Slogger of two wars. I stood on Main Street with two other old soldiers and we remarked simultaneously, "did you hear those heels click?"

No Canadian Company of men in the last conflict or in the "do" of 1914-18, ever clicked their heels together any better or looked any smarter on parade than the Grimsby Cadets acted and looked last Thursday morning.

I am going to hand a bouquet to the bugle band. They are 100 per cent better than they were a year ago, particularly the drums.

COST OF LIVING

On every hand the cost of living is being discussed in Canada. People are asking if the worst is not over and, after some weeks with the ceilings removed, a somewhat downward movement in prices will not result.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute of New York makes it clear enough that during the period of the war, and immediately after Canadians were much better off than people in other parts of the world. That authority states:

"Although the increase in the cost of living rose faster in Canada during 1946 than in some other countries, the cost of living in Canada at the end of the year showed less of an increase over the prewar level in 1939 than in most countries. From 1939 to the end of 1946, the cost of living rose in the United Kingdom by 32 per cent, in the Union of South Africa by 36 per cent, in Sweden by 45 per cent, in Switzerland by 55 per cent, in the United States by 55 per cent, in Peru by 110 per cent and in Mexico by 199 per cent as compared with the increase of 26 per cent in Canada."

All of which should be somewhat consoling, but it isn't.

HOW IT WORKS

The boss drives his men; the leader coaches them.
The boss depends on authority; the leader, on good will.
The boss inspires fear; the leader inspires enthusiasm.
The boss says "I"; the leader says "We."
The boss says "Go"; the leader says "Let's go!"

ISN'T IT FUNNY?

That so many Business men Will get up in the morning Refresh themselves with a dose of advertised fruit salt, Clean their teeth with advertised brush and tooth paste, Shave with an advertised razor, Wash and shave with advertised soaps, Put on advertised underwear, Advertise hose, garters, shirt, collar and shoes, Seat themselves at the table And eat advertised breakfast food and bread, Drink advertised tea, coffee, or cocoa, Put on an advertised hat and gloves, Light an advertised cigarette, With an advertised match Go to work in an advertised motorcar Give letters to a typist Who types on an advertised machine, Use advertised carbons, Sign their letters with an advertised pen Containing advertised ink, And turn down a proposal to advertise On the ground that Advertising Doesn't Pay!

OBSERVE THESE RULES BEFORE TAKING MEDICINE

Never take medicine in the dark.
Always read the directions carefully before taking dose of medicine.
Never increase the dose or take it more frequently than directed without asking your physician.
Pour from the bottle with the label upward. This keeps the label clean and easy to read.
Shake any liquid medicine before taking.
Never take medicines originally prescribed and intended for others.
Keep medicine out of the reach of children.
Close container at once. Some medicines get stronger, others weaker, if container is left open.
Never interchange tops or covers on pill or powder boxes if they bear directions regarding use. Dangerous results may occur.
Never pour medicine back into the bottle as it may contaminate the preparation.

HOW THE UNION WORKS

For twenty years George Turner had been a hard working, conscientious policeman in London, England's odoriferous Billingsgate fish market. Then a vacancy came in the sergeancy rank, and Constable Turner was promoted.

That started the fireworks. The promotion stirred up a heated dispute in the labor union. Turner's ten fellow constables went on strike because, they said, Turner had been shown rank favoritism. Each should have been given a chance to apply for promotion.

Then Billingsgate cleaners walked out, because Constable Turner had forgotten he was a policeman and once, in an emergency, had helped the superintendent wash down a dirty corner of the fish market.

Also in sympathy, and without warning, out walked 1,000 other London workers, market and street cleaners and grave diggers. The movable sections of the Tower Bridge went up and stayed up because the seventy employees who operate the drawbridge in shifts had joined the sympathy strike over George Turner's promotion.

The bridge stayed up for a week forcing traffic to detour over London Bridge, which couldn't carry it all, and Central London had a merry jam, with traffic tangled in three-mile long snarls. Thousands of people in London were forced to walk, murmuring Billingsgate oaths on the Billingsgate strikers.

By the middle of that week many streets were littered with uncollected rubbish, and the city's health authorities began to worry. Funerals had to be postponed or held in distant cemeteries. Londoners found the doors to public lavatories locked; the attendants were on strike, too.

Few strikes had ever caused as much inconvenience and discomfort to the general public, and Billingsgate reputation for smells went up to an all-time high. The streets around it were covered with fish slime and other dirty refuse, and as one of the porters expressed it: "If this 'ad 'appened in the summer, we'd 'ave 'ad to wear our ruddy gas masks."

And all because Constable Turner, after working and waiting for 20 years, had been promoted to the rank of sergeant. From this

IDLENESS IS DESTROYING HOME

One-third of the people who marry in the United States wish they hadn't, so vehemently that they procure divorces. Many of the undivorced two-thirds wish that they had stayed single or married someone else. Large numbers of unmarried men and women live together. Similar conditions prevail in Canada to a lesser extent.

The ill effects of these marital misfortunes upon children, homes and society are one of the most serious social problems. Neither compelling an unfit parent to remain in a home, nor fixing economic responsibility for the children, will give a child the home it needs nor provide society with good citizens.

We agree with those who regard the problem as one of religion, using the word in its broad sense. Compulsion is no remedy. Character is the solution; but character involves self-disciplines that are incompatible with modern notions of self-indulgence.

We disagree profoundly with those who regard divorce as an economic problem primarily. Poverty is a cause of domestic unhappiness, and a serious social evil, but it is not the cause of the majority of divorces, which occur among the over-leisured who have money to spend that they did not earn.

As an observer who looks at divorce from a rural background, and who has seen it in its urban setting, we submit that the prime cause of divorce is idleness. The devil has not lost his knack of employing the hands. The sociologists might well make an intensive study of the effect of the too-short work week, of less than 48 hours, on home happiness. The North American parent has not learned enough about the constructive use of leisure to be entrusted with too much of it. He and she are both better behaved under the discipline of a work week consistent with their physical and mental health.

Unless we find a solution for the divorce problem in self-discipline and good citizenship, we will see the institution of marriage existing in its true significance among a small percentage of the population. A good society cannot exist without good homes. Good homes are produced by good work.—"The Scene."

One disadvantage of being a famous personage is that you can lose track of your birthdays. Somebody always keeps count.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

CANADA'S FIRST FIREWORKS

When the kiddies set off their varied fireworks on Saturday last, they knew that they were celebrating the birthday of Queen Victoria. They did not know, however, that they were observing the 79th anniversary of Professor William Hand's arrival in this district from England to start the Canadian manufacture of pyrotechnics.

The Professor, an employee of the Woolwich Arsenal and already celebrated in England, came to Thorold in 1872 and started to produce fireworks in a little shed there. On May 23rd, 1874, he staged a big display in Montebello Gardens, St. Catharines. The present park area was then known. That display put him on the road to success in Canada. Two years later he moved to a bigger plant in Hamilton, and today his grandsons are carrying on the biggest fireworks manufacturing firm in Canada.

Although St. Catharines youngsters will be carrying on a tradition set here in 1874, their display will lack some of the brilliance of the Professor's show due to a new amendment in the Explosives Act. Skyrockets are out!

Due to a number of deaths and tragic accidents as a result of indiscriminate sale and use of rockets, the government has prohibited their sale in stores. Merchants who have rockets in stock and sell them are liable to court action. Manufacturers are permitted to sell rockets only to organizations staging public demonstrations, such as the C.N.E.

Local merchants, well-stocked with fireworks after the lean war years, said today that no skyrockets had been included in this year's shipments. However, there is a large variety of colorful fireworks, candles, fuses and sparklers, bearing intriguing names like "Golden Fountain," "Silver Spray," "Pheasant Tail" and so on.

It will not be a noisy 24th of May, however, because noise-making fire-crackers are made in China and there has been little or no supply for some years, dealers said. What is lost in noise will be gained in the colorful fireworks in good supply now.

Coupled with preparations for the 24th, Fire Chief Arthur Burch issued a warning today about careless use of all fireworks. Young children should not be allowed to play with the fireworks, and all displays should be held under supervision of adults in open lots.

Setting off fireworks carelessly has caused several bad accidents here in pre-war days, the fire chief said. Many small fires had been caused by setting candles and flares off in confined spaces, he stated, while rockets and flares often resulted in roof fires.

"A little care will ensure a happy and safe 24th of May," Chief Burch declared.

The originator of the whole thing, Professor William Hand, arrived in Thorold in 1872, according to an article in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine. His work in a small shed there bore fruit in the big display in Montebello Gardens which he advertised as the first fireworks display ever seen in Canada.

The police patrolled the roped-off areas for carriages and buggies and, when not chasing youngsters who dodged the 25-cent admission fee by clambering over fences smeared at the top with fresh tar, went about warning drivers of vehicles to watch their horses and keep a good grip on the reins once the fireworks began," the story says.

It was a night of illuminated balloons, "The Grand Flight of the Fiery Pigeons," a superb charge of 46 "variegated makes," and many colorful bursting displays. St. Catharines approved the show, the professor's fame spread and he decided to remain in Canada.

COST OF CIVILIZATION

Oh, I'd like to be a cannibal
Upon a South Sea isle,
Where all I'd have to wear would be
A loin-cloth and a smile . . .
Where no hard work would be my lot,
And sleep would be serene
Without the roar of trucks and trains
And smell of gasoline.

If I was just a cannibal
No ground I'd have to till;
I'd send the wife to catch some fish
And squat and eat my fill;
I'd pick fresh fruit from off the trees—
Bananas, dates and limes.
While coconuts would come to me
Without the need of dimes.

I'd have no tax to worry o'er,
I'd have no use for cash.
Because there's nothing one could buy
But hair-oil and a wash;
There'd be no need to send a call
For doctors to come "quick",
Because without rich foods to drink
One never would get sick.

There'd be no time-clock I should punch,
No stiff assembly line,
No "morning after" to my head—
How could there, without wine?
No bills that I would have to meet,
No styles to ponder to,
No Mrs. Grundy to dictate
What I should say and do.

Then why, you ask, stay here to toil
And be the butt for laws?
To sweat all day for cash to buy
The fodder for my jaws?
To have my day-time hours planned,
My sleep-time terrorized?
Darned if I know, unless it is Because I'm CIVILIZED!

THE DIFFERENCE

In days of old, when it grew cold,
The girls wore flannel undies;
They walked the straight and narrow way
And went to church on Sundays.

But now, today, they've all gone gay.
They don't care how it freezes.
They paint and smoke, and crack a joke
And even show their knickerbockers.

If great grandma could only know
What girls now are doing,
She'd shake her head and plainly say
"Look out, there's a trouble brewing."

They call it "one world." If they don't look out, it will be "none."
The Russians are a peculiar race. They want their cake, and everyone else's, too.

It would be fine to be rich as Croesus. One could then afford to fill the pantry with some groceries.

Winter is that period when the magazines and news reels must always show a shot of a ski jumper in action.

Maybe the fellow who laughs at his own jokes wants to be certain they will be appreciated by at least one party.

Being a successful hostess is one of the finer arts in any country. In Canada, where we entertain so much in the home, a special finesse is required of the hostess.

The fine points are worth knowing, because nothing is so crushing as the feeling that your party has been a failure.

The first thing to consider is whether your guests are well-matched. Do they know each other? Do they like each other? Have they interests in common? It is not necessary, of course, for them to know each other in advance—although you will have a little work cut out for yourself if they don't! It is essential, however, that they be congenial or that you have a reasonable expectation that they will soon prove to be.

You wouldn't want it to be like the cocktail party described by Paul Gallico. One of the men was definitely bored by his fellow guests, so when offered another cocktail, he said: "Yes, I'd better have another. I can still hear what they are saying."

The hostess should keep an eye on her guests to see how they are making out as the evening progresses. Now, I don't mean to be that busybody type who never lets anyone settle down to a pleasant conversation. She is a menace, that one. Just as you are beginning to enjoy your new-found friend, your hostess comes keening up to drag you away because "you really must meet Prof. So-and-so who is just fascinating on the subject of growing egg-plants." And so on, all around the room, until people who were perfectly satisfied and comfortable where they were, begin to feel they're playing musical chairs.

Of course, if the hostess is really on the beam and can tactfully lead her guests into promising conversational channels, that is different.

A thoughtful hostess never concentrates on any one of her guests particularly the male members of the party. Take a tip from the lovely English hostess of an officers' convalescent home who said: "Be nice to the dull ones, and don't let the nice ones."

If your party is to be one of those enjoyable conversational evenings in which good talk ranges back and forth, it will be wise to cast an eye to the grouping of the furniture. Will your guests be talking in one group or in several? Is there room for each group? Are the side-tables conveniently arranged for the ash-trays, and for the refreshments when they arrive?

The intelligent hostess takes cognizance in advance of the special requirements of her guests. She won't overlook Friday and its special needs in refreshments. She should also be on the watch for types like vegetarians, who, as George Bernard Shaw said, "Won't eat anything they can pat."

F. N. Y. of Raymond, Alberta, writes:

"Dear Claire: Our club considers you our authority, so would you please tell us the right way to wear a corsage. Should the flowers be pinned on with the stems up or down? We've had many arguments over this matter, so would you please advise?"

ANSWER: Nature settles the argument for you. The correct way to wear a corsage is as the flowers grow, and that means with the stems down, and the flowers up.

Readers are invited to write Claire Wallace about their Etiquette problems. Address Claire Wallace, care The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby Ontario.

Hello Brides-to-be! You have been asking about what food to serve your guests after the wedding and how to serve it. Your plans will probably depend on the number of guests invited to the wedding. If it is to be a small family affair then you can arrange a wedding breakfast or a buffet luncheon or supper; if it is to be a large wedding then you are restricted to a reception so arranged that the guests can be served easily and quickly. The time of day or evening does not need to make a difference unless you are planning an early morning wedding to be followed by a wedding breakfast proper.

Here are a few suggestions which will be useful.

Wedding Breakfast: Fruit cup, Chicken and Mushroom Pâté, Potato Chips, Buttered Peas, Knot Rolls, Pecan Tarts, Wedding Cake and Coffee.

Buffet Suggestion: Ham Rolls or Waldorf Fruit Moulds, Celery and Olives, Hot Buttered Tea Biscuits, Ices and Cookies, Wedding Cake and Tea.

Large Reception: Assorted Sandwiches (open-face, rolled, ribbon, plain), Assorted Bouchées, Ices and Small Cakes, Candies, Wedding Cake and Coffee.

HAM ROLLS

Ask the butcher to slice cooked ham thin; for 24 servings he may cut 2 lbs. into 24 slices.

On the day before the luncheon, cook 4 pounds of scrubbed potatoes. When cold, peel and cube into small pieces. Add 3 hard-cooked eggs chopped fine, 1 minced onion, 2 cups cut asparagus and seasonings. Mix 2 cups salad dressing into potatoes and egg mixture. Put a tablespoon of salad on each slice of ham, roll and fasten with toothpick.

CHINESE CHEWS

2 eggs, 1 cup fruit sugar, 3 tbsps. melted butter, 1 cup pitted date, ¼ cup chopped almonds, ¼ cup chopped candied ginger, ¼ cup suet, ¼ cup raisins, ¼ cup pastry flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 2-3 tsp. salt, ¼ cup chopped candied cherries.

METHOD: Beat eggs and add sugar. Add butter and fruits. Sift measure flour. Re-sift with baking powder and salt and add to mixture. Bake in greased 8" square pan at 350 degs. in an electric oven, 45 to 50 mins. Cut while warm; roll into balls with hands and dip in fruit sugar.

PARTY COOKIES

1 cup shortening, 1½ cups sugar, 3 eggs, 2½ tbsps. salt, 4 cups flour.

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg, beating thoroughly; add vanilla extract and salt. Add flour gradually; blend thoroughly. Chill dough in electric refrigerator. Roll small amount of dough at a time on lightly-floured board to ¼" thickness. Using heart-shaped cutter, cut out cookies. Place on greased baking sheet; bake in hot electric oven (400 degs.) 12 mins. Cool.

BASIC RECIPE FOR ICES

2-3 cup sugar, 1½ cups water, pinch salt, 1½ tbsps. gelatin, 3 tbsps. water, Fruit juice as desired.

Cook the sugar and water together 5 mins. (This may be made in quantities and stored in the refrigerator.) Soak the gelatin in the cold water and dissolve over hot water or in the hot syrup. Cool and add fruit juices. Turn into tray and freeze until firm. Remove to a chilled bowl, break into small pieces. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy (1 to 2 min.). Turn into trays and continue to freeze until firm.

Note: Omit the gelatin if you wish.

Lemon or Lime Ice: Add 1-3 cup of lemon juice. Serve with sweetened orange segments.

Cherry Ice: Add 2 cups of cherries and juice (cut cherries very fine or grind). 1 tbsps. lemon juice and few grains nutmeg. Omit ¼ cup water in basic recipe.

Orange Ice: Add 1 tbsps. orange rind to the hot syrup and cool. Then add 1½ cups orange juice and 1 tbsps. lemon juice.

Raspberry Ice: Add 2 cups red raspberries crushed and sieved, and 1 tbsps. lemon juice.

WEDDING PUNCH

Dissolve 1 cup of soft honey in 6 cups hot strong tea. Cool R. Add 2 cups orange juice and 1 cup lemon juice.

Add 3 cups water, and just before serving pour in 1½ quarts of ginger ale. Have plenty of ice cubes in the bowl and garnish with orange, lemon and maraschino cherries.

The toast may be simply "To the Bride," spoken by the clergyman or father before anyone sips their punch.

CREAMED EGGS

4 hard-cooked eggs, ¼ cup milk, 4 slices toast, 1 can condensed mushroom soup, 1 tbsps. chopped parsley.

Cut hard-cooked eggs in slices or chop. Heat mushroom soup in top part of double boiler. Add milk and eggs. When hot add chopped parsley. Four over toast. Yield: 4 servings.

Three different Apple Pies—(1) use chopped dates combined with cubed apples and thus cut down on the amount of sugar required.

(2) Add color and flavour, and save on sugar, too, by using strawberry or raspberry jam with sliced apples.

(3) Sprinkle grated cheese over minced apples just before fitting the top pastry.

Muntman's Potatoes—Peel potatoes and shred on coarse grater. Pour boiling water through them and pat dry with a towel. Spread potatoes over bottom of heavy frying pan in heated dripping. Fry until crisp, turning several times. Serve immediately.

Broiled Citrus Dessert—Prepare halves of grapefruit by clipping out the centre with scissors and running a knife down each side of sections. Sprinkle with brown sugar and place under heated broiling element for 10 minutes. Top with maraschino cherry.

Mocha Gravy—After panbroiling ham, add a small amount of strong coffee to the skillet and let boil well, stirring to blend in all the ham juices and drippings. Pour the hot liquid over the ham before serving.

Recream Potatoes—Left-over mashed potatoes can be revived to their original state if they are placed in the top of the double boiler, along with a small amount of milk. Vigorous beating with a sturdy beater will make them light and fluffy as they heat.

Creamy white worsted gabardine all dressed up with embroidered dots in brown makes this casual coat. It achieves quite an air and is right with almost anything, any where. Self buttons outline the curved slit pockets, while the classic collar and revers are unadorned. There is no buttoning in front. Two little slits are back details.

HUSBAND SHOULD GET MEAL AT LEAST ONE DAY WEEKLY

"How much happier the average home would be if the man of the family made himself responsible at least for daily dinners and week-end entertainment, leaving his wife free to devote herself to dish-washing, housecleaning, and the family mending."

That suggestion isn't an idea cooked up by feminine members of the Tuesday Club, bent on freeing women from the kitchen stove, says a woman commentator.

It's an idea put forth by a man — Malcolm LaPrade, world traveler and amateur cook, whose book "That Man in the Kitchen" is a kind of road map by which a helpless male can find his way from the ice box to sink to oven to dining-room table.

Maybe asking the man of the family to whip up the dinner every night is a little too much, but it might solve quite a few family problems if he would take on the job of getting a substantial dinner one evening a week.

Eating out is one matter on which most husbands and wives instinctively disagree.

Men can't understand why anybody with a home wants to eat out. Women can't think of anything nicer than being taken out to dinner.

The reason for the disagreement, of course, is that a man can sit down, relax and have his dinner served whether he eats in or out. But for the woman without a servant (and that takes in almost all women) the urge to eat out is simply a matter of wanting to have a meal put before her which she doesn't have to market for, prepare, and wash dishes after.

So if the man of the house would — on one chosen day a week — take over the job of setting a tasty meal before his wife, with a minimum of calling her from the living room to find the ketchup and to explain why there isn't any garlic on hand, the old conflict of whether or not to have dinner out would very soon satisfactorily be settled.

And, as Mr. LaPrade, ever hand-timid souls who have tossed a salad, an egg-beater man can learn to cook.

Many an individual would make a better success if he was equipped with a self-starter.

The spirit of mortal is proud, especially if the spirit is driving one of the new models.

that's a fine home you're building!

YES, I think I'm going to like it.

I wish I had a home of my own.

Well, why not?

My wife has the idea that it would be a great worry if anything happened to me.

Nothing to it, my boy. The arrangements I've made with the SUN LIFE OF CANADA will clear the mortgage in the event of my untimely death.

I never thought of that. What about the cost?

Insignificant! In fact, it adds very little to the carrying charge of the mortgage.

If you are a home-owner, make your investment safe for posterity. A SUN LIFE man will be glad to talk it over with you.

out of season and declared that the two game wardens of the two counties could not be expected to cope with the problem. With some indignation, Mr. Secord charged that poachers, if they could not find pheasants, shot poultry and deer, and added that he understood the same situation prevailed in Niagara Township.

The council, under the chairmanship of Warden W. L. Patterson of Niagara-on-the-Lake, passed unanimously a resolution tabled by Reeve Secord and Deputy-Reeve Robert G. Dawson of Niagara, requesting the Minister of the Department of Lands and Forests to appoint two additional game wardens for Lincoln and Welland in an attempt to halt the depredations of poachers.

to see that, so far as the supply permits, the circulars or other articles thus addressed are delivered at every house in places where there is free delivery by letter carrier, or to every family in places where the patrons of the post office call at the office for their mail. On rural mail routes it will be the duty of the mail carrier to deliver circulars or other article of printed matter addressed "Householder" or "Boroughholder" into every box in his route, so far as the supply permits.

Postage may be affixed to label. The department has also authorized the mailing of the above matter put up in securely tied packages with address label attached on which is indicated the name of the rural route or post office, as the case may be, and the number of pieces included in the package with postage calculated on each item, prepaid by means of postage stamps of large denominations affixed by the sender to the address label. At office of delivery, these address labels with the stamps attached should be removed by the postmaster and sent at once to the office of the District Director. They are not to accompany the Cash Accounts. Each item of mail matter put up in lots as indicated above for transmission by post must be of uniform weight and the postmaster of the office of mailing must verify beyond doubt the number of items contained in each package and that proper postage has been prepaid thereon and must also see that the stamps are effectively cancelled.

This privilege of prepaying postage by means of large denomination stamps affixed to the address label does not apply to individually addressed third class matter.

COUNTY TAX RATE

Adopting the reports of the Road Committee, acting under the chairmanship of Reeve Harold Freure of Clinton in the absence of Reeve William E. Headlip of Gainsboro, council authorized the County Engineer to advertise for a half-ton pick truck, tenders to be in by June 6th. It was decided to charge $45. for any entrance culvert regardless of size and inclusive of the installing charge. Engineer Weir was also authorized by council to obtain prices on a flashing signal and stop and go lights to be installed at Virgil.

After a lengthy decision with Jack Broderick, President of the Lincoln County Federation of Agriculture, the council made a grant of $3,800. to the Federation of 1947 with the understanding and agreement that all grants to agricultural organizations will be reviewed by the council before being made by the Federation. In accepting the report of the Agriculture Committee, presented by Deputy-Reeve John B. Aikens of North Grimsby Township, council approved grants of $200. to the Clinton and Louth Agricultural Society and $100. to the Smithville Agricultural Society provided the two societies hold fairs in 1947. In future, the societies will apply to the Federation for grants instead of to the county council.

The report of the board of management of the Industrial Home, presented by Deputy-Reeve St. G. Dawson of Niagara Township, was accepted by the council. Reeve Leonard Hoare of Merriton presented the report of the general administration committee and the accounts for charity and welfare, presented by Reeve Frank Laundry of Beamsville, were ordered paid.

Council gave approval to a by-law amending the bylaw licensing salvage yards, shops and second hand shops and dealers so that no licence shall be issued without having been first approved by the local municipalities in which the applicant proposes to carry on business. Reeve S. H. Eckler of South Grimsby presented the bylaw amendment to council.

Lincoln went on record as being in approval with the stand being taken by the council of the County of Prince Edward regarding old age pensioners. Prince Edward County has advocated that they be allowed to earn $300. during a year instead of the present figure of $125 and Lincoln councillors expressed themselves as being heartily in favor of the idea.

The council recommended that the committee in charge of the setting-up of the County Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses hold the plan in abeyance until nurses are available. Although officials of the order recommended that four nurses be on the staff of the new unit, it was decided that it could operate with three. However, only one nurse has been found to be available for the positions and the county council did not think it wise to proceed with the plan under these circumstances.

Warden Patterson and the councillors wound up the May sessions on a note of appreciation for the sacrifices made by the people of the Old Country during the war and for their fortitude during the recent days of snow and floods. The council was unanimous in granting the sum of $1,000 to the British Flood Relief Fund and with the donation went the best wishes for happier days of the council as a whole.

the uprooted family is still with us," said Lloyd S. Richardson, superintendent, in his report. People did not stay put during the war, and as a consequence many industrial centres such as St. Catharines became overcrowded. The problem of housing had still not been solved. There was still much family trouble, and it was the task of the society to re-establish and stabilize family life in this area.

Protective services were based upon the belief that the normal place for a child is in a home with his own parents. Mr. Richardson said. To remove a child of over five years of age to a substitute home "may well create a feeling of insecurity that may never be erased."

The society was applying its funds to raising children in their own homes, and during the past year 163 families were assisted in meeting their problems. It was felt that all other methods should be exhausted before legal steps were taken, he said.

At the end of the year there were 229 children under the society's care, one-third of whom were chargeable to a municipality, while the remainder were in free and adoptive homes under supervision, the superintendent reported. "To care for such a large family takes many hours spent in planning and visiting. The Child Care Committee has taken action in seeing that each child who has been deprived of his normal home receives the very best that can be offered as a substitute. Again, it is the individual citizen of the community who is taking part in this planning, and not some government agency which only knows the child by a case number. It is the child in the boarding home which this committee is particularly interested in, and he needs every opportunity to enable him to make up for the failings of his natural parents who have let him down. To instill this feeling that he is not unlike his fellows we are indebted to our clothing buyers, and Chairman of the Finance Committee for her untiring efforts in seeing that every child is attractively attired.

Through the whole-hearted co-operation of the St. Catharines Lincoln Health Unit, and the consultant services of the Mental Hygiene Clinic, a full check on the child's health, and mental capabilities is possible. Every one of our wards in boarding home care is visited regularly by the Health Unit. Above all, to our foster parents our gratitude can never be adequately expressed. They have stuck by the child in sickness and in health, through discouragement and frustration to the ultimate happiness of the child in their care."

Mrs. Garnet J. Dillon reported for the finance and purchasing committee, stating that clothing had been purchased for 150 children. Clothing will always be accepted by the society, she said. Mrs. Roy Tuck, reporting for the child care committee, said the three-fold program consisted of foster homes, health and recreation. The Kinamen and Kinette Clubs had been helpful in providing gifts. An increase in board rates had been made necessary by higher costs of living, particularly milk.

The health section provided transportation for wards to and from doctors and dentists, immunization and mental health clinics, and visits to those hospitalized. Miss Estelle Cuffs presented the report of the protection committee. Roy Miller, chairman of the financial campaign committee, reported that the Kinamen Club of St. Catharines had undertaken as its major project the financial campaign of the society and would take care of the costs of the campaign. The campaign took place in April.

Mrs. J. L. Russell, assistant superintendent, thanked the following organizations for help given during the past year: Duke of Kent Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Kiwanis Club; Rotary Club; Women's Institutes; Kinamen and Kinette Clubs; Sellers store; Blue Hyacinth Club; Omicron chapter of Phi Kappa fraternity; public health auxiliary; and 2nd Dragons, I.O.D.E.

NIAGARA SANATORIUM

The report of Dr. Shaver, superintendent covering medical services for the month was as follows: Total number of persons x-rayed 1,023. Out of a total number of 1,165 examinations made at the Clinic 22 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered. At the end of the month there were 36 awaiting admission to the Sanatorium.

LEGION SPORTS

down from a clear blue sky, on the athletic field of G.H.S., nestled 'neath the mighty brow of the Niagara Escarpment.

Speaking of the crowd. It was just fair. Most definitely the people should come in throngs to witness these young athletes show their stuff. Recently we attended an indoor meet in a nearby city, the competition was no better than seen here on Saturday, but the place was a sell-out two hours before the firing of the first gun. As this sports day increases in size and importance, perhaps the crowds will swell also. But it is at this early stage that the support of everyone is needed. Too many other ventures have folded in their formation due to non-sufficient support. Without a doubt the Legion have great plans for the future. The meet will possibly turn into an all day event; as it increases in scope, more athletes will turn an interested ear toward Grimsby and its sports day. Then, we hope that this matter of closed events will be a thing of the past. This is one criticism we have, and we feel very strongly about this point. Then, of course, the matter arises of Athletic Clubs grabbing off most of the honours. This happened on Saturday, when the Stamford A. C. walked off with a great share of the silverware. To this we say, that if a centre the size of Stamford can support an athletic club, complete with coaches, trainers, etc., why can this not be done here? Is it an impossibility for the Legion or some other organization to form such a club, so that all athletes entering from here would be flying the Grimsby colors as a body, and not as a bunch of individuals? It's a little food for thought.

This training really shows up. Let's take for instance the man's high jump. There's a young kid from the Mountain top, by the name of Earle Metcalfe. This kid has a lot of promise, has a nice form in clearing the bar around the four ten to five foot mark. He was beat out by Roger Gullion of the Stamford A. C. Under proper coaching Metcalfe would be a natural of the much improved style of rolling over the bar, and we think that Gullion would have had a tough time beating out this kid, if they both were under the guidance of a coach. It pays off to be sure. Stamford's record here proves that without a doubt.

So here's to many more sports days. May the birthday of Queen Victoria long be associated with sports in Grimsby. There is still a vast field to uncover, athletes sometimes have to be found, and an earnest effort should be put forth to dig out these unknowns. Who knows, there might be Olympic material here. Public school teachers should keep a wary eye out for young potentials, if and when an athletic association was formed these kids should be enrolled, and from just such an effort, Grimsby would not have to take a back seat from anyone. We don't in hockey, little in sportsmanship, why then in track and field.

BEAVERBROOK CONFERS HONOR ON MASSEY

Canadian born British publisher Rt. Hon. Lord Beaverbrook, inaugurated as chancellor of the University of New Brunswick at Fredericton, N.B., is shown conferring an honorary LL.D. degree on Rt. Hon. Massey, former Canadian high commissioner to Great Britain. The ceremony took place at the annual convocation exercises of the university.

DOG SHOT WOMAN IN BATHTUB IN WACKIEST MISHAP OF 1946

It used to be news when a man bit a dog. But in 1946 a dog shot a woman.

And that's not all. A kangaroo shot a man. So did a rabbit. A deer took a gun away from a hunter. A fish chased a fisherman off the road by sneezing in his face. A goose, a grasshopper, and a mouse got into the act, each in its own quaint way.

All this was turned up by the National Safety Council in its annual roundup of odd accidents. And if you haven't already begun to suspect that things were a little wacky in the year just past, read on!

About the dog that shot the woman. It happened in Baltimore as Mrs. Ruth Patterson was enjoying a bath. Her police pup, Toby, spied a gun on the washstand, put paw to pistol and let Mrs. Patterson have it right in the bathtub—or more precisely, right in the hand.

More understandable was the strange case of the kangaroo that shot the man. This happened in in the window. The salmon lunged at the grasshopper, missed and fell in the lap of the now thoroughly disorganized driver. Mr. Mantakes gave himself over to subduing the fish, the car crashed off the road. The salmon sneezed spitefully once again and succumbed.

CANADIANS HAVE TASTE FOR CANNED PEAS

Canadians have more than doubled their consumption of canned peas in the last 10 years, according to a report made today by E. R. Coulson, sales division manager of the American Can Co.

Ontario last year produced more than two thirds of the country's $4,000,000 can pack, he said. During the 10-year period production rose nearly 225 per cent.

RURAL MOTOR ACCIDENTS ARE ON THE INCREASE

The worst months for traffic accidents are coming up, warns Ontario's Highway Minister, the Hon. George H. Doucett. Even now, the traffic toll is spiralling upward at an alarming rate. The seasonal upswing in accidents, according to the Department figures, starts toward the end of May. For the past ten years, the month of June has shown an average of 14.6 more persons killed and 178 more injured than in the preceding May. But comparative figures for June, 1937, and June, 1946, showed some indication that the accident toll was under better control: ten years ago in June, 78 persons were killed and 1,123 injured in Ontario's traffic accidents while last June, 57 people were killed and 1,124 injured.

Rural accidents increasing. The increase in rural accidents, according to Mr. Doucett is much greater than those occurring in urban centers. Highway Department figures for the first quarter of 1947 show that there was a 41.5% increase in motor accidents in the rural areas as compared to a 20.9% increase in the urban area. Property damage resulting from motor accidents shows a 61.1% increase in rural centers over 49.6% increase in the urban centers.

Mr. Doucett stresses the need for motorists and non-motorists to observe every precaution on our urban and rural roadways. "There is no substitute," he states, "for care, courtesy and common sense on the part of our drivers and pedestrians."

Very drastic penalties will be meted out to owners and drivers of motor vehicles who do not abide by the measures imposed by the recent amendments to the Highway Act. The new laws go into effect on July 1st and thereafter automatic suspension of driving privileges will follow conviction where an accident occurs arising out of such offences as: failing to stop at a through street; failing to heed a traffic signal; failing to signal properly when turning; driving without prescribed lights; operating with defective brakes; overcrowding the driver's seat; and numerous other offences usually classed as minor.

"The accident news appearing in the press and on the radio should serve," states Mr. Doucett, "as a grim reminder to us all that it is up to each of us to do this or her part in halting the terrible loss of traffic accidents."

Maybe there wasn't so much mental illness in the old days because there wasn't any singing

Australia when Arthur Crosbie shot a kangaroo through the hind legs and it fell on its back. Crosbie reloaded the rifle and put the butt on the kangaroo's neck to pin it down. The kangaroo reached up, twined a forepaw around the trigger and shot Crosbie through the arm.

Prompted by the same motive of self preservation, a rabbit that lived just outside Louisville, Ky., resisted the activities of William Humphrey, a 16-year-old hunter. He stuck out a paw from Humphrey's game bag, pulled the trigger of Humphrey's gun and shot him through the foot. Humphrey now carries a rabbit's foot for luck when he goes hunting. Guess what rabbit!

Back in the meatless days Del Halstead licked his chops as he drew a sight on a big buck deer near Buckhorn Station, Calif. Just as he released the safety catch on his rifle, he was hit from behind and sent sprawling. Another buck had bounded out of a thicket and landed, ala the Marines, in the nick of time. Halstead not only lost his gun—he lost two bucks.

Edward M. Brown, of Beverly Hills, Calif., saw active service in both the European and Asiatic theaters without a scratch. He decided to relax by going hunting. A companion shot a goose. It plummeted down, struck Brown smack in the chest, knocked him flat, and inflicted injuries that kept him in the hospital 45 days.

Put a mouse and a woman in the same car and something has to give. So when Mrs. Orson Phelngold, of Albany, N.Y., found she was sharing her car with a traveling field mouse, she just did what came naturally. The car smacked into a pole and the field mouse returned to the field.

James Mantakes of La Grande, Ore., was chugging along with a salmon he had caught in the back of the car. Desert dust got in the salmon's gills, and it sneezed. Yes, it did. Then it sneezed again. As if that weren't enough to confuse Mr. Mantakes, a grasshopper blew

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

GREAT PROGRAMME FOR CELEBRATION OF ANNIVERSARY

An ambitious programme for the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the Women's Institutes of Ontario at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph on June 18 is rapidly taking shape. It is anticipated that between 5,000 and 6,000 Women's Institute members will be in attendance, many counties having made arrangements for several bus-loads to make the trip to the College for this historic day.

During the forenoon of June 18, the buildings of the O.A.C. will be open for inspection, and several exhibits and displays of special interest to rural women are being arranged. The programme proper, with Mrs. Hugh Summers of Fonthill, President of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, presiding, will begin at 1.30 p.m. and throughout the afternoon there will be addresses and greetings from distinguished guests and prominent Women's Institute officials from all across Canada. The Honourable Ray Lawson, O.B.E., Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, will be present, along with representatives of the Dominion and Provincial governments. Some of the pioneer workers in the Women's Institute movement will also speak to the gathering.

The highlight of the day's proceedings will be the Historical Pageant, "Let there be Light" produced under the direction of Mr. Brownlow Card, and telling the story of the origin of the Institutes at Stony Creek in 1897, and following its history and its spread to many countries of the world down through the years. The pageant will start at 5.30 p.m. and last until between seven and seven-thirty, to bring the general celebration to a close.

In order to take care of those coming from a long distance, arrangements have been made to provide overnight accommodation at the O.A.C. for 600 guests at a nominal rate, and requests for this accommodation should be made at once to Mrs. John H. McCulloch, R.R. 2, Brampton. Arrangements have also been made for reduced railway rates on all railways from Port William east.

No, hum! The average dead beat is a live wire.

Beaver Club

A very successful meeting of the Beaver Club was held Monday evening, May 26th, when the losing team in the Shuffleboard Tournament provided supper for the winners. The tables were beautifully decorated and 32 members sat down to a bountiful repast. In a few appropriate words, Mrs. R. Walters, Captain of the Blacks, presented the Silver Cup to Mrs. A. Henderson, Captain of the Reds. Mrs. Henderson suitably replied and presented Mrs. Walters with a corsage. A short business session followed. Then two members were presented with birthday boxes, while the entire company sang "Happy Birthday."

Later on the members of the winning team entertained with an hour of fun and music, concluding with a quiz programme.

Next meeting of the Club will be held June 25th, at the home of Mrs. Eric Garnham, Grimsby Beach.

SUNDAY, JUNE 1st. WILL BE SHUT-INS' DAY

On Sunday, June 1st, Canada will pay tribute, in a special way, to her sick and disabled, young and old alike, who are confined through illness or disability to their homes, hospitals or other institutions. This is the day when the public at large will remember, with visits, letters and gifts, those who are laid aside. These people, the sick and shut-in, are an inspiration to everyone; by their ability to meet adversity with cheerfulness, they earn our admiration and regard.

But remembrance—a precious thing in itself—should be a practical thing. In this connection shut-ins should be generously remembered. Their one desire is to be accepted as members of the community—to feel that they are not forgotten. Shut-ins' Day is an opportunity to revive old friendships to make new friends, and to gain a fuller appreciation of their problems and abilities. Recognition, consideration and affection are as much desired by the shut-ins—and valued more—than by any other group.

So make June 1st a day of remembrance, and then make every Sunday Shut-ins' Day.

GRIMSBY TAG DAY FOR NAVY LEAGUE

The peacetime activities of the Navy League are increasing; its opportunities for service are unlimited. For more than fifty years we have been the official agency dealing with the men of the sea.

The Navy League operates clubs and hostels at the principal Ocean Ports where merchant seamen and naval ratings are made welcome, while ashore. When a seaman is awaiting his ship he finds homelike surroundings in Navy League centres, and he knows that kindly nursing care awaits him in the Sick Bay if he requires medical attention.

Canada's position as an exporting nation is of vital importance to every citizen. According to the Department of Trade and Commerce "foreign trade creates one third of all Canadian jobs, builds one third of our home markets and provides one third of every dollar you make." The real meaning of this lies in the fact that we are dependent upon the merchant seamen who man the ships that carry the merchandise to and from the markets of the world.

Through its Educational services the Navy League makes Canadians conscious of their dependence upon the sea, and in addition, sponsors a nation-wide youth training programme that gives guidance to many thousands of teen age boys.

The Navy League will hold its Tag Day on Saturday, June 7th. A generous response will assist the League to meet its responsibilities on behalf of the men of the Sea and the Youth of Canada.

Grimsby, Ontario.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Reader:

The business of writing a column that effectively covers the many and varied events of a High School year, is one which takes up a lot of our time. Another full-time job is studying for examinations. We are doing both this week.

In our school, on May 22, 1947, Cadet Work was in the ascendant. Our male teachers suddenly blossomed into various ranks and stations of authority in the armed services of our nation. Sub-Lieutenant Merkle (Navy) blustered importantly before his quavering first formers. Flight-Lieutenant Awde laid down the law to the blustering fourth formers and Captains Smith and Branscombe worked valiantly with the rest of the school. All in all, the day took on a completely military air and even the mere pupils turned out resplendent in the khaki and red of the Army Cadets. The occasion was, of course the annual Cadet Inspection.

The Cadet day began at 10:45 a.m. with a church parade to St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, where the Rev. F. McAvoy delivered a stirring address to the cadets on the theme "We should have an aim in life." During the afternoon, the whole corps practised exhaustively for the inspection which was to take place at 7:30 sharp that evening. We are happy to be able to say that the inspection was a complete success, even in the eyes of Lieutenant Wright, M.C. and Bar, of the R.H.L.I., who was the inspecting officer. After somewhat of an argument, we add our congratulations to our co-columist, Cadet Major Donald Riches, who did a very efficient job as C.O. of the corps. Our thanks go to our instructors, Capt. P. V. Smith (Army), Plt.-Lieut. D. O. Awde (Airforce), and Sub-Lieut. John Merkle of his Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy (cheers, whistles, and cat-calls). Miss Irene Morgan's work with the girls' rhythmic, was of a very high calibre, and we thank Miss Morgan for adding a very special touch to our inspection.

At approximately 9 p.m., Mr. Gordon McGregor, musician, pianist, and reporter of The Independent staff, struck up the music to begin a pleasant evening's dancing for all the cadets and their friends. Professor McGregor rendered several of the more popular compositions of the day in his inimitable style (some of which you could even dance to). It was on this pleasant (?) note that we ended one of the most successful Cadet Inspections in our experience.

But let us go on to consider a few of the delightful coming events to take place in our town. Mr. P. V. Smith, our High School Principal, informs us that on Tuesday, June 3rd, the High School students are to hold a display of their year's accomplishments in the form of an Open House. All parents and friends of the students are cordially invited to this affair. (Now if Mr. Bourne will please go away and leave us alone, we'll get on with the letter.) Mr. Smith also tells us that on June 11 there is to be a special trip for the High School students (mostly first form) to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The School Board has hired one bus for the occasion and any aid in transportation in the form of private motor cars, would be very much appreciated, as the single bus arranged for, will probably not be able to accommodate all those wishing to make the trip.

Down at the ball field the other night, we were talking to our good friend, Herbert (All kinds of insurance) Jarvis, (Plug). From him we received, on behalf of the Peach Kings Hockey Club, a very cordial invitation to all High School students to attend the gala celebration dance at Beamsville on Friday evening, May 30th. The Peach Kings Management realises and appreciates the amount of support given them by High School students and wants all the pupils to feel welcome at the dance.

This weekend, something very special is going to take place in George Mar's igloo on Livingston Ave. The Annual Blossom Time Music Festival will be held on the evening of May 30th, in the Arena. As usual, Mr. G. L. Eaton has put a tremendous amount of work into this event and we feel sure that the results will be of the usual high calibre.

Your correspondents have just had the privilege of being thoroughly shocked. A few days ago, we saw a movie called "Mom and Dad." This is one of the most striking examples of modern education we have ever seen. The facts presented by this movie to the Canadian public are at once both shocking and revealing, but are facts which the youth of our nation must have rammed to them in the most forceful manner if certain social diseases are to be eliminated.

Along with the movie, the management presented Mr. Elliot Forbes, a hygiene commentator of the highest order, who spoke in plain language which anyone could understand.

Mr. Forbes debunked the old-fashioned idea, that ignorance in children promotes innocence and pointed out that the only way to combat trouble of this type was to prevent it. Let us say that we heartily agree with Mr. Forbes. A complete sex education is as vital to a young man or woman today as learning that two and two are four. IGNORANCE IS SIN, particularly in this case.

We wish to find only one fault with the way in which "Mom and Dad" is produced. The publicity is too sensational, too much crowd-appeal is included in the advertisements of the picture. A high pitch-bellow is used where a quiet announcement would have been quite sufficient. However, the point of this little piece is this. "Mom and Dad" teaches a lesson and an important lesson, and the lesson is taught in a sensible manner, so your correspondents recommend it highly to parents and children alike.

Well, my dear Mr. and Mrs. Reader, that seems to about complete our news for this week, except to say, thank you, to those hard working fourth formers who have handled our Student Profiles during the last two weeks. Alice Robinson and Isabel Stevenson. We would appreciate it if you would let us know how you like their efforts.

And so my dear folks we bid you adieu for another week and as the paper sinks slowly into the press, we reluctantly take our leave.

Yours very sincerely,
Riches and Brydon.

CANADA FIRST IN "GROVE OF FRIENDSHIP"

Canada will be one of the first nations to be represented in a "Grove of Friendship" to be developed in Exposition Park, Los Angeles, Calif., in connection with Foreign Trade Week, an annual event sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Two young maple trees, sent from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa by the Canadian government, were planted on May 22 in the grove. It is hoped eventually to have trees planted from many other nations trading in and out of the harbor of Los Angeles, all typical of the several countries, as the maple is typical of Canada. Already trees have been received or are on the way from Guam, El Salvador, Netherlands East Indies and Alaska. Victor Duclos, Canadian trade commissioner, here receives the young maples from Miss Fedatta Huffman, stewardess, on arrival by plane. He was accompanied by Mel Buether, chairman of the world trade week committee, and Robert L. Burns, vice-president of recreation and parks for Los Angeles.

TOOTH REMOVAL

Pointing out that modern dental science can make satisfactory replacements of teeth, Canadian health authorities urge those with defective teeth to have them removed.

Sometimes, they point out, it's better to have nothing if not the best, and no teeth at all is preferable to decayed molars, which may be spreading infection throughout the body.

to accept your proposal, and requested me to convey to you and all the members of your Society the sincere and grateful thanks of the Board for your very generous offer. Your proposed contribution will be a great help in a most worthy cause.

The Canadian Red Cross Society of Grimsby and District will be included in the list of Foundation Members, and steps will be taken to set aside what is known as Ward Five in the name of such Society, and a plaque will be placed on the door of the room.

In the event of a rearrangement, as a result of an extension, another ward will be set aside.

Yours sincerely,
B. H. Scott,
Sec'y, West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

HUSBANDS AND LOVERS AS SEEN BY CYNICS

That British doctor whose survey showed that 93 out of 100 British and American wives consider their husbands "lousy lovers" should have studied up more on this perplexing subject before popping off, is the opinion of Sydney J. Harris, Chicago News columnist. He quotes Balzac: "It is easier to be a lover than a husband, for the same reason that it is easier to say a good thing occasionally than to show a ready wit all day long."

Mr. Harris has other authorities to cite, as follows:
"In 'As You Like It', Shakespeare summed up the average husband's attitude toward marital amour in a phrase: 'Men are April when they woo, December when they wed.' John Dryden was equally cynical when he wrote: 'That very same of wife and marriage is poison to the dearest sweets of love.'"

"Baudelaire, the French poet, declared that 'A sweetheart is a bottle of wine; a wife is a wine bottle.' But Dorothy Parker, coming right back at him, remarked: 'A husband is simply a lover with a two-day growth of beard, his collar off, and a bad cold in the head.'"

"Ambrose Bierce voiced the perennial complaint of bachelors when he sighed: 'Woman would be more charming if we could fall into her arms without falling into her hands.' And Oscar Wilde explained that 'Men marry because they are tired, women because they are curious; both are disappointed.'"

"When asked by a young friend whether it would be better for him to marry or stay single, Socrates replied: 'Whichever you do, you will repent it.'"

FOOD COMBINATIONS

Pointing out that not even Milk is a perfect, self-sufficient food, nutritionists urge inclusion of all the nutritional factors in diet, by combining such edibles as milk, fruit, vegetables, cereals, bread, meat or fish, so that a meal will provide all the essentials to maintenance of health.

She also thanked the Red Cross for giving them the opportunity of taking these classes which will be of great benefit to them all, both at home and elsewhere if needed.

Rev. Mr. Watt of Trinity United Church talked to the girls and told them of the great happiness to be found in giving service to others.

The evening ended with a delightful tea provided by the class. Mrs. C. E. Dunham and Miss Ann Crane poured.

The graduating class is as follows: Mrs. Edith Higgins, Miss M. Blanchard, Miss K. Metcalfe, Miss Bernice Honey, Mrs. Alfred Two-sock, Mrs. Helen Botterill, Mrs. Melanor, Mrs. Louella Davis, Miss Florence James, Miss Muriel Watt, Miss Jean Durham, Mrs. Edna Miller.

100 YEARS OF PROGRESS in making Farm Implements

AS LATE AS 1794, wooden moldboards were hewn from tree trunks, and when the first cast-iron plows were made, farmers believed that the cast iron "poisoned the land." Then came lighter weight steel plows. Soon plows were being made in factories at much lower cost than they could be made by the local blacksmith.

Since 1847 when the first Massey plant started producing plows and other farm implements, machine methods have almost completely replaced hand labor on the farm.

Plowing requires more power than any other farm operation. Today on thousands of farms in Canada and throughout the world, Massey-Harris plows drawn by powerful Massey-Harris tractors speed across the fields, enabling the farmer to plow twice the acreage he formerly plowed with a four horse outfit.

And Massey-Harris mowers, binders, combines and other machines handle crops more speedily than would have been thought possible a hundred years ago.

The past century has been one of steady expansion for the Massey-Harris industry. To the farmer it has brought happy release from much of the back-breaking labor connected with farm work.

Today Massey-Harris makes a type of plow for every purpose—moldboard plows, binder plows, disc plows.

PROPER FRUITS FOR OUR ROADSIDE STANDS

(Experimental Farms News)

Widespread interest is shown in roadside markets. Before too much capital is expended, calculated study should be given to such a venture, states R. D. L. Slight, Assistant in Horticultural Extension, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. Fundamentals to success are:

1. Location: Volume of trade is determined by heavy motor traffic. An urban stand that is visible in either direction, and is located on the right side of the highway, with ample parking space, is advantageous to the city dweller returning home. A neat, attractive, clean stand and surroundings are of first importance. The products offered for sale must be orderly arranged, attractively displayed, without congestion.

2. Quality: Freshness and maturity of the products offered for sale are of vital importance. The motorist shopping at country roadside stands feels he is at the source of production where freshness is inevitable. He hopes to buy at cash and carry prices. Prices must, therefore, be such as to impress the customer as fair, and not higher than retail prices in the neighboring city markets.

3. Regular Supply: The chief products, offered for sale should be in steady supply if the market stand is to be of a permanent nature. Variation in secondary products is an attraction, and novelties are in demand, but the ultimate success of the stand depends on regular customers who expect to find reasonable standard products of quality at fair prices. All procurable kinds of native fruits in their season should be displayed on the stand. These include rhubarb, strawberries, raspberries, cherries, blueberries, peaches, plums, pears, grapes and apples. It is well to remember that 75 per cent of the fruits purchased are for eating out of hand. Therefore only fruit of high quality should be displayed and sold from roadside stands.

4. The progressive manager of a roadside fruit stand should, whenever possible, have continuously on display and for sale each fruit in its season. The strawberry, for example, could be secured by efficient contracts with the early and late strawberry producing areas of the Maritimes and offered for sale from late June and throughout July.

5. Sales Appeal: The factors that influence fruit sales, to the motorist, are, in order of importance: quality (in appearance and in taste); color (typical of the variety); size (2 1/4" to 3" in diameter for apples); price (quality apples of this size should retail at 35 to 40 cents per dozen); freedom from bruises and blemishes.

6. Packages: High quality, uniform sized, well packed fruit should be offered in clean and convenient packages.

7. Ninety per cent of the fruit purchased for the home is purchased by women. Modern housing does not provide storage for large quantities of fruit, and the trend is toward frequent purchases of quality fruit in convenient small packages.

8. Service: Prompt and courteous service to all customers is indispensable. The average motorist customer does not like to—and will not—wait. Any suggestion of unbusinesslike practices, poor showmanship, irregular supply, indifference or varying quality, disinterested attention or ill considered prices will soon be reflected in the volume of business done.

VARIETY AT TABLE

As a change from other cuts of meat, which may be more difficult to obtain and more expensive, health authorities suggest such items as liver, kidney, heart, tongue and sweetbreads to add taste and variety to meals. They are all rich in essential Vitamin A and iron, and help to ensure healthy eyes and rich blood.

TOMORROW'S CAR

The director of engineering for a well-known motor car company is reported as making these predictions about the automobile of tomorrow:

1. More streamlining, lower silhouette, wide bodies.
2. Air conditioning (only in more expensive models at first).
3. More window area, better all-round visibility.
4. Shorter engines and higher compressions.
5. Front wheel drive or engines in the rear.
6. Fully automatic transmission in all models.

SOME EARLY AMERICAN WEATHER FORECASTERS

In 1733 a new Almanac appeared in Pennsylvania, issued by Richard Saunders, who called himself Poor Richard. This almanac was neat, well printed, and sold for fivepence a copy. It was much like those of today, giving a calendar, the tides, and the changes of the moon. It also forecast the weather for a whole year.

In this day it may seem strange that people once read with care the weather forecasts in their almanacs, which were at best only guesses by the author, based on his experience. We know that hot weather may be expected in July, and cold days in January; but hundreds came to America who knew nothing of the climate; and a careful forecaster of experience could give great help by telling them of the changes to be expected.

Poor Richard's Almanac was the greatest success of any printed work yet seen in America, and no wonder, for Poor Richard was none other than the wisest reader and the best writer the new world had known, B. Franklin himself. Remembering the success of Silences Dogood in Boston, Ben Franklin had Celia Single, Sharp, Alice Addertongue, Anthony Afterwit, and others write for him in the Almanac. They became household names, along with Poor Richard, and Bridget Saunders, his hard-working wife.

Bridget was a woman with a mind of her own. Once she changed much of the copy, while Poor Richard was away, and put in poems she said were much better than her husband's. Also she declared that his weather was not fit for good women to dry their clothes in, and gave them better weather, all through the almanac.

Franklin made no pretense that the maxims of Poor Richard were original though many of the best were from his own pen. He gathered the ideas from a wide range of reading, and put them into brief, clever form, easy to read and easy to remember.

Had Poor Richard's Almanac been Franklin's only creative work, that alone would have been enough to make him famous. Few homes in America failed to have copies hanging on a nail in the kitchen. From our shores it went abroad, where Poor Richard found his way into new lands and new languages, helping everywhere to make people more frugal, more kind, and more successful.

OLDEST NATIONAL FLAG IS THAT OF DENMARK

The Danish flag, consisting of a large white cross on a red field, is the oldest unchanged national flag in existence.

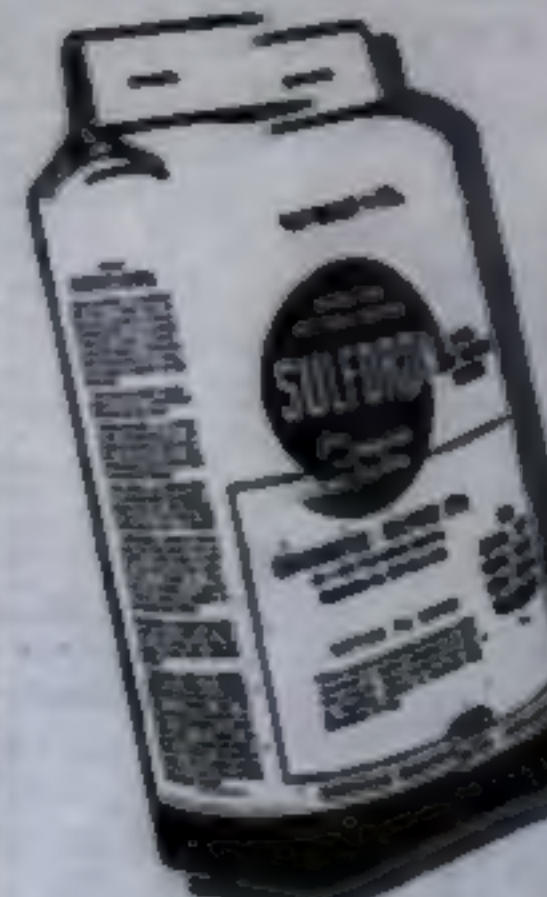

About 1218 King Valdemar II led a campaign against the pagans who were continually attacking his colonies of the Baltic. The Danes were surprised in their camp at Lindanise, near what is now Riga in Estonia, and only the personal exertions of the king saved them from disaster. According to a legend, a red banner bearing a white cross appeared in the sky at the most critical moment of the battle. This was taken by Valdemar as a promise of aid from heaven.

After routing the enemy the king adopted the banner as the standard of the Danes and called it Dannebrog, literally meaning "Dane's cloth."

HEALTH HELPERS

Parents who are training children to be clean, shouldn't forget to go a step further and wash them, at least in their earlier years. Medical authorities suggest that warm water and soap be made readily available to a child, that a tooth brush be kept handy for the little one, and a comb within reach when he may need it. And, if parents want their children to grow up the play-way, the experts suggest that the youngsters be given a place in which to play, and others of about their own ages to play with.

SAD STORY OF INDIAN MAID BRITISH LOVER IS RECALLED

Refused To Marry Her So "Fawn" Caused Him To Drown During Storm In Niagara River — Captured In Death What She Could Not Win In Life.

Among the interesting annals gathered by the late George Tait for half a century secretary of the Board of Education and former reeve of Fort Erie, who made a hobby of collecting interesting data of the early days of the Niagara frontier, there is no sadder story than that of the death of "The Fawn," who failed to reach her destination, Frenchmen's Creek, just north of Fort Erie. She drowned in a storm on Niagara River, which also took the life of her lover, Lieut. Morris.

When the Peace Treaty of 1783 had been put into effect, and the U.S.A. became an independent nation, there lived on Grand Island in the Niagara, opposite the site of Fort Erie, a group of Mohawk Indians. At that time, between 1783 and 1812, there was stationed at adjacent Frenchmen's Creek a company of British soldiers. The little garrison had to row three miles to Old Fort Erie citadel for supplies in batteaux built along the banks of the creek. It was quite a stiff job rowing against the current.

In 1803, a fine-looking dashing young British officer, Lieut. James Morris, was sent to take over the little garrison at Frenchmen's Creek. The garrison often visited neighboring Grand Island for diversion. The most beautiful girl on the island was then known as "The Fawn." She was 19 years old, graceful and about five feet seven inches in height. The moment she saw the dashing British officer, this young subaltern, believed headed for a promising career, became a favorite with all. In those days, twenty-six years old, and coming from a fine English family, she lost her heart.

Leaving Grand Island in November 1803, the officer was chagrined when the maiden climbed into his batteau and said she was going with him. She refused all peaceable efforts to make her return to her people, recalling to him promises she said he had made. But the young subaltern was adamant in refusing to marry her.

The craft left Grand Island when a storm was setting in. As it neared Frenchmen's Creek, the intensity increased and the heat commenced to fill with water. The men began to jump and all struggled toward shore. The startled "Fawn" still afloat on Morris' rebuff, threw her arms about the latter's neck. They went down together, and although the little Indian could swim like an eel, never once did she relax her grip on the young officer, who could not swim a stroke.

The rest of the party reached shore safely, but the pair drowned. Her love spurned, the proud Indian maiden captured in death what she could not win in life—her man.

TWO LICENSE PLATES RETURNING NEXT YEAR

Ontario motor vehicles will receive two license plates next year with a color scheme of navy blue background with white lettering. The shortage of steel during the war years forced the Department of Highways to discontinue the two plates. The use of one plate has been the basis of complaint from police officials who said it made law enforcement more difficult. British Columbia also will return to the two-plate system next year.

MUSIC FESTIVAL WILL BE A BIG PRODUCTION

Mammoth Stage And Special Seating Arrangements Have Been Constructed In The Arena.

Everything is in readiness for the big Blossom Time Music Festival at the Arena tomorrow night. This is the 18th festival that has been staged but it is the first time that it has been produced in the arena.

Elaborate preparations have been made for staging this large production. A special stage of immense size has been erected at the north end of the ice surface and seats have been provided in the amphitheatre for over 1,000 people, all facing the stage. Rush seats will be in the regular seating space.

There are still a few seats on the two reserve seat plans available. The production this year will no doubt be the finest yet produced by Gordon L. Eaton and his pupils from the various schools in the district and citizens who miss seeing and hearing it will have many regrets.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS CAN HELP SITUATION

The labour shortage, in construction and industry, will be helped considerably with the release of students from secondary schools for the summer months, in Hamilton and area. To secure the best possible results, in assisting the students to secure the jobs they particularly wish, the youth section of the National Employment Service, at Hamilton, visited the schools recently, after hours, and registered all who were interested. Over 600 youths registered for summer employment, many of whom were interested in farm work. When their studies and exams are over, they will be quickly referred to available jobs.

Local school boys of this community, and adjacent country, who might be wishing summer employment, may secure job information, by writing to, or calling at, the Youth Section, of the Hamilton Office, of the National Employment Service. Every effort will be made to find suitable employment for them.

MEN FROM MARITIMES COMING FOR FARM WORK

Nine, able-bodied men from the Maritimes are expected to arrive at the Hamilton Office of the National Employment Service tomorrow morning for work on the farms in the Hamilton area. Advice was received that they had left Sydney, Nova Scotia, Tuesday morning, making their arrival here sometime Friday.

The men accepted farm work willingly, are strong and used to hard work, and have signified their intentions of helping out our farmers with this year's crops. Upon arrival in the Hamilton Office, they will be allocated to farmers who have placed orders with the Employment Service. With the acute shortage of farm labour, local farmers will welcome this additional help.

RENTAL REGULATIONS SIMPLE TO UNDERSTAND

In answer to numerous enquiries, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board emphasize that landlords of shared accommodation are not entitled to the 10% increase in rentals recently announced by the Board.

Shared accommodation is defined as any room or rooms forming part of the residence of the landlord or his agent and of which the entrance and any other facility is used in common by the landlord or his agent and the occupants of the room or rooms.

The Board also pointed out that if a landlord of any house, apartment or flat is entitled to the 10% increase in rent he must offer the tenant a two year lease in accordance with the provisions of the rental orders before he may put the increase into effect. This offer of a two year lease must be made on a special form which is available at any office of the Board.

DECLARING A CANARY

Probably the highest flying canary on record was "Ernie," Field Marshal Lord Montgomery's canary, which arrived at London by air with its master recently. At the airfield the Customs man asked: "Anything to declare sir?" and Viscount Montgomery replied, "Only one canary." Ernie was taken to the waiting car. No doubt Monty felt he had better "declare" Ernie before Ernie declared himself, for he is a vocal little chap!

A medico says there are 19,000,000 germs in a sneeze. This is an instance where there's no safety in numbers.

Turner, will also appear, charged jointly with the same offence.

WINONA MEN'S CLUB IS ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

The Winona Men's Club is a local Service Club composed of a group of over a hundred men from 18 to 85 years, without regard to race or creed, occupation or profession, who have undertaken a program to improve boys' and girls' health and welfare, to support athletics, and in promoting civic improvements such as highway lighting, a local water system, a community park, proper speed limits, and other worthwhile local improvements. To date considerable progress has been made in all these efforts, and finances have been adequate.

They are now planning more active support of Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, expect to have a Junior "B" Softball team as well as a team in the Fruit Belt League, and one in the Bantam League.

These activities along with the work of the Civic Improvement Committee are demanding a larger financial program. Toward this end the Program and Finance Committee are planning a series of events including an Auction Sale, a special Dinner and Dance, and a Carnival, and the Boys' and Girls' Health and Welfare Committee are having a Hobby and Pet Show the end of June.

VANDALS CLEAN OUT COUNTY TULIP BEDS

Stole 72 Blooms And Tramped Others Into The Ground At The Registry Office.

(St. Catharines Standard)

Officials of Lincoln County expressed keen indignation Monday morning at the action of unknown vandals in tramping a tulip bed at the Registry office.

Whoever committed the depredation did a thorough job since a check showed that 72 tulips had been clipped, not to mention three others which had been tramped into the ground. Monday, nothing remains of what was the pride and joy of the county officials.

Lincoln County officials stated that the tulip bed had shown remarkable promise. All of the flowers were large and all had come up at the same time, giving the grounds a much-needed spot of color. This was the first occasion on which any attempt had been made to beautify the grounds except with the planting of shrubs.

Disappointment was expressed by county officials that such an act should have been committed. They pointed out that beauty spots and flower beds are an asset to any community and to be enjoyed by all, not to be ruined by the selfishness of a few individuals.

FALLS FROM CAR

Mrs. Wilson Ransom, 11 Robinson Street South, was painfully injured Monday evening when she fell from the open door of her husband's automobile, after the vehicle had been involved in collision with a car in charge of William Newman, Stamford Centre, on the Queen Elizabeth Way. She was attended by Dr. J. H. MacMillan for bruises, abrasions and friction burns to side of head, hands, knees and elbows.

THE GOLDEN THRUSH

J. GOODMAN PETTIGREW

Old Good Pettigrew, the auctioneer, sells auction sales both far and near; Hire Good, he'll do you proud, He'll get the money and hold the crowd.

There is no handle to his name, But he is old Good Pettigrew just the same; It's thirty years since Good set out, With Jas. A. Livingston to show him the route.

To Calster Township they hoist their sails, Ed. Pammore thought it was the Prince of Wales, Then Good hitched up that pacing mare And those three boys hiked for Abington Fair.

They never come home till away in the night, And some people hinted the boys were tight, But we are well aware that is not true.

"SALADA" TEA

Delicious Flavour

For that is a thing they never would do.

So if you are wanting an auctioneer, Just hire old Good and have no fear, Because he will handle your auction sale, For that boy never was known to fail.

He don't fear the cold, the rain or mist, He will drive to your place and made out your list, Then he'll drive away over the valleys and hills, And there tack up your auction bills.

To hire old Good—don't be afraid— He'll sell your sale and your fortune's made.

VINEMOUNT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Gliddon, spent the latter part of the week, visiting relations in Mitchell, Holmerville and Godrich. The weather man has almost drowned out the grain crop, as most of the flat land looks like miniature lakes. One tractor in a field a few miles east of Godrich sank in water and mud with the fenders resting on the water.

Boy Scouts

1st GRIMSBY (LIONS) TROOP The troop's work is still behind schedule due to the absence at study of the Leaders. Last Monday saw another baseball game between teams captained by Patrol Leader David Levine and Second Clifford Schwab, the latter team winning hands down.

These new Scouts will be received into the troop at the next regular parade.

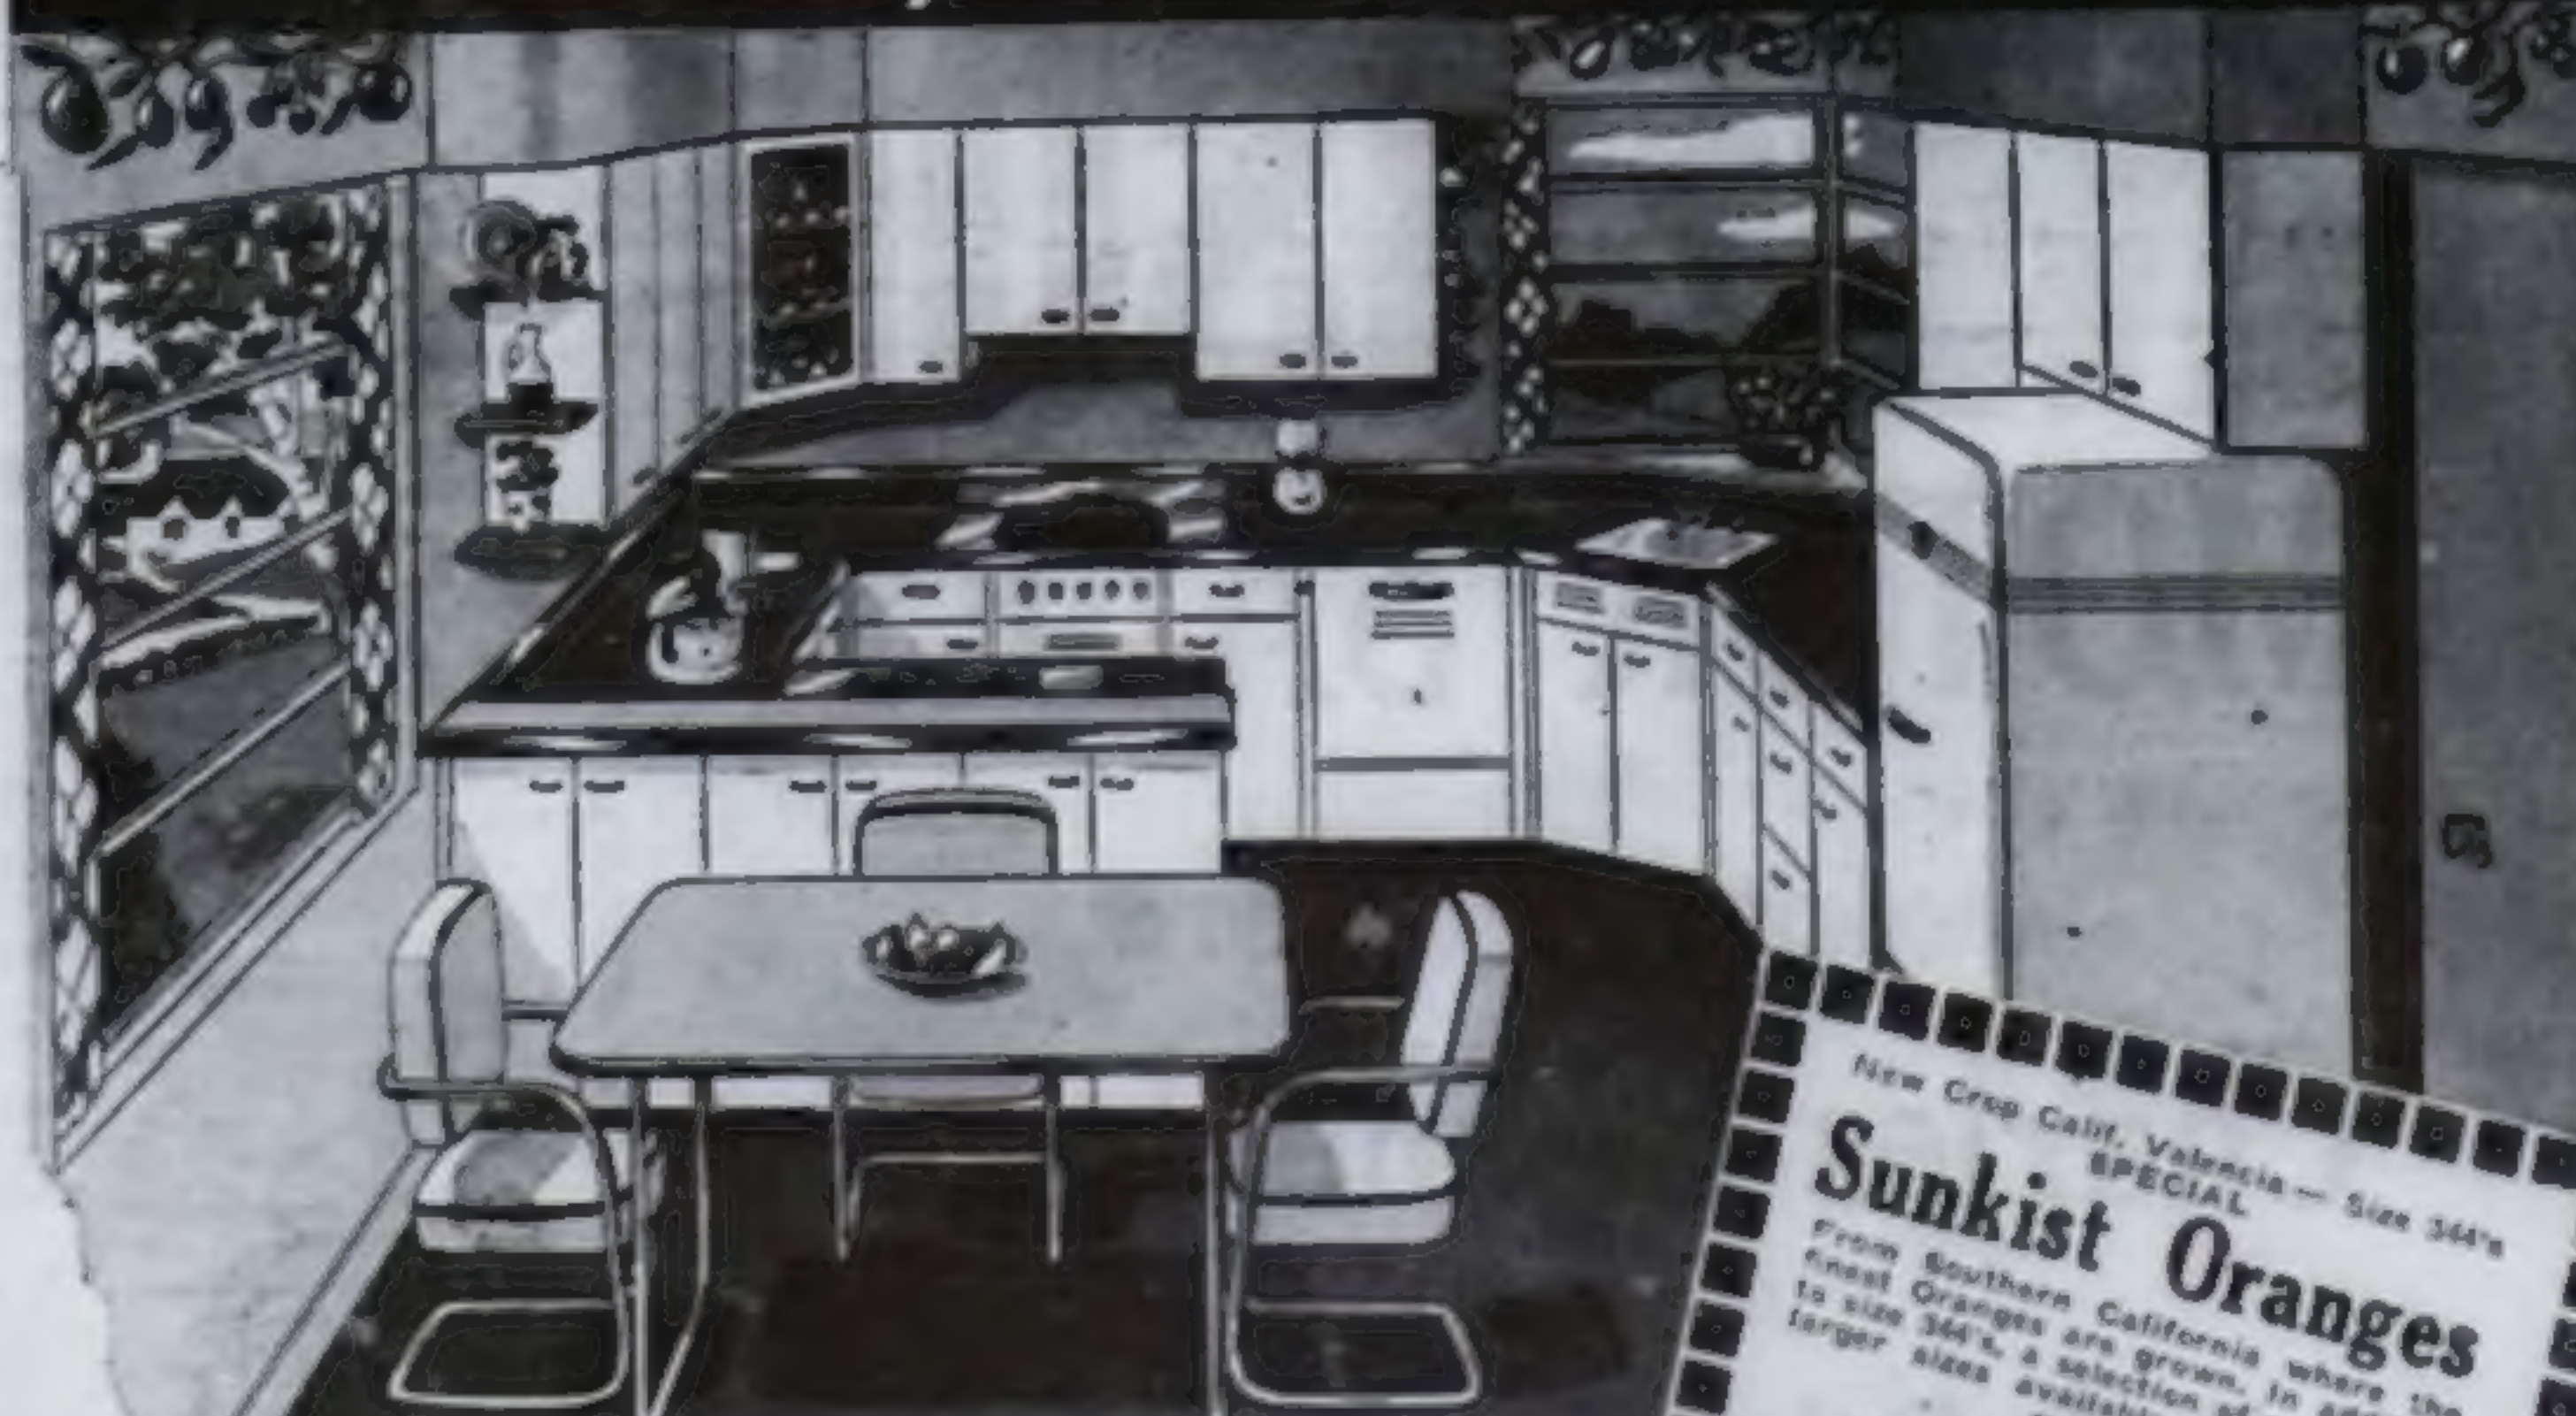

The Canadian Legion appreciate the help given by the Scouts on Friday evening and Saturday at the Sports ground.

Troop Order—Next Meeting, Monday, June 2nd, at the High School at 7 p.m. Dress—Uniform.
